Junior Chamber Has Inaugural Dinner Monday

New Body Of Young New Castle Boosters Launches
Career In City

FIFTY MEMBERS
AT FIRST EVENT

Ray Sprigle, Former Pittsburgh Newspaper Man,
Makes Chief Address

A new civic movement for New Castle was formally launched as members of the city's new Junior Chamber of Commerce assembled at The Castleton last night for an "Inaugural Dinner" at which Ray Sprigle, widely known as the former city editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, counseled younger business men to "concentrate themselves more diligently with governmental problems."

Mr. Sprigle, now the director of the department of purchases and supplies for Allegheny county, delivered an address highly appropriate for the banquet occasion which climaxed almost three months of organization efforts on the part of the junior chamber leaders.

Warns Youth

"If you young business men don't pay more attention to governmental affairs than the business generation preceding you has," the speaker warned, "it will not be many more years before you will no longer have any business with which to occupy yourself and shortly after that you possibly won't have any government. Business men should always have been interested in government. They should have devoted almost as much attention to government as they did to their business. But it wasn't necessary in the good old days and so they didn't bother. Now it is necessary if business is to survive."

Bart Richards, member of The News editorial staff and a close friend of Mr. Sprigle, introduced him.

Before the principal speaker was heard the new organization—with

PA NEW OBSERVES

Almost as much rain has fallen in the last three days as was noted all during the month of April, and a near drought was broken by the storm of Saturday. Precipitation during April had been unusually light, and there has been a deficiency of precipitation this spring, so the rain of the past few days came at an opportune time.

Lusty windstorms of the spring have proven exceptionally hard on garage doors that chanced to be left open when the storms struck, it has been learned by numerous residents of the city.

Judging from the number of blossoms with which the trees are loaded at the present time, there should be a record crop of peaches and cherries this summer.

Street oiling has been started in the city. Indications are that property owners on streets which it is proposed to pave will go ahead with oiling as usual. There are no definite indications as yet as to the possible time that work of paving will be started, if the proposals go through. In the meantime there will be a lot of dust clouds on the streets.

The record traffic accident toll in Western Pennsylvania over the past week end reveals that more caution must be exercised by drivers of cars if the toll is to be reduced. Several of the accidents looked like responsibility was entirely with the drivers of the cars.

Spring got another setback today when chilly breezes made overcoats most comfortable.

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—Amelia Earhart Putnam today gave her monoplane a final check, ready for the dangerous hop-off for New York at 5 p. m., E. S. T. today.

If the luck that carried her over the Atlantic and Pacific holds out, she will arrive in New York before noon tomorrow—the first to make the trip non-stop.

Measure Is Up To Governor

FIRST MAJOR ACT
OF 1935 LEGISLATURE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 30.—The first major piece of legislation pushed through Pennsylvania's politically-divided legislature in the 18 weeks it has been in session, the milk control bill went to Gov. Geo. H. Earle today for his signature.

Approved by both houses in a spirit of compromise which belied advance indications of an eleven-hour battle royal, the measure was to reach the executive's desk late today and be approved at once. Existing legislation expires at midnight tonight.

As passed finally, the bill permits a lower price for cash-and-carry purchases, than doorstep deliveries, a senate concession. The administration yielded on its demand that cooperatives be regulated. The bill controls the price at which cooperatives sell milk but not the price at which they purchase it from producers.

Accident Victims Show Improvement

Evening, Are Better

Some improvement was reported today in the condition of Ralph Sickles, aged 28, of 203 North avenue, Millvale, Pa., Jack Robinson, 25, of 1358 West Boulevard, Cleveland, and Earl Warren Stettler, 26, of 1347 Hall avenue, Lakewood, O., who were injured Saturday evening when the car they were riding in crashed into the end of a concrete bridge on the West Pittsburg road. The three men are in the New Castle hospital, where they were removed following the crash which claimed the life of Miss Helen Murray, aged 22, of Lakewood, O. While still in a serious condition, there are hopes for the recovery of all three, it was stated at the hospital today.

Asks Court To Order Return Of Alleged Liquor Plant Seized

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Protesting confiscation of an alleged liquor plant in his home last January 18, Giuseppe Pedulla of 227 Liberty street, New Castle, today filed a petition in Federal Court asking that the seizure be suppressed and the distilling equipment returned. Pedulla charged that on January 17, two agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit searched his home without a warrant and lodged him in the New Castle jail. The next day, armed with a search warrant, the officers returned and confiscated a 200-gallon still, full of mash; 17 five-gallon cans of whiskey; 400 gallons of mash; 30 52-gallon barrels of mash; one 100-gallon condenser; 800 pounds of cane sugar and other equipment and materials, the petition stated. On Pedulla's claim the seizure violated his constitutional rights under the fourth and fifth amendments to the U. S. constitution, Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker ordered issuance of a show cause rule on the government, returnable May 18. The rule was to be issued on U. S. Attorney Horatio S. Dum-bauld, Oliver J. Gettel, acting tax unit investigator, and J. C. Clifford and W. C. Bower, Jr., the raiding agents.

President Of National Chamber Of Commerce Makes Optimistic Speech

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—A speech bubbling over with optimism and prophecy that the economic crisis is passing was delivered by President Henry I. Harriman today in opening the general session of the United States Chamber of Commerce's annual meeting.

Harriman said at the outset that "no longer is the request of the president the law of the land," but he refrained from raking the administration over the coals too sharply.

Praises Programs
He criticized some of the present and proposed recovery measures but praised others, particularly the housing program, and urged the government to review all of the AAA's processing plans, mainly that on cotton, "and considered whether a general manufacturers' sales tax would not be a fairer way of raising the money."

Harriman insisted that measures of business and economic reform await the return of "a real revival of industry." He did not believe in reform first and recovery later.

More At Work
Under the heading of "Essential to Recovery," he said:

"Forty-two million people are at work while eight million are out of work, and the problem that faces the country is such a restoration of business confidence that the index number of business activity may rise to par, and the unemployed be set to work. This, in my judgment, can be speedily accomplished by:—First, an assurance that congress will adjourn soon and that

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Counsel for the Aetna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and for the City of New Castle today waived a federal jury trial in the company's suit to recover $3,764.79 alleged owing by the city on back insurance.

On the attorneys stipulation to try the case without a jury, Federal Judge R. M. Gibson signed an order stating he would make general findings upon the facts, his rulings to have the same effect as a jury verdict. The amount sought by the insurance firm is $3,485.92 with interest from January 1, 1934.

McCune's Death Probed By Jury

Either Driver After Hearing Evidence Last Evening

DRIVERS TELL
DIFFERENT STORY

After hearing the evidence in the circumstances surrounding the fatal crash on the Ellwood City road, at the Harmony Baptist church, April 16, when William T. McCune, of Castlewood, was fatally injured, a coroner's jury brought in a verdict to the effect that McCune's death was a result of the crash, but did not place any blame on either driver. The inquest took place before Coroner Orville Potter in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, last evening.

The drivers told different stories about the collision.

Corporal J. L. Lawton of the state highway patrol told of being called to the vicinity of the Harmony Baptist church on the afternoon of April 16, between 1:30 and 2 o'clock, by the report of a collision between two automobiles.

Lawton Testifies
He stated that the road which leads from Castlewood to the Ellwood City road, is a Pinchot type road, the Ellwood City road, a concrete highway, known as Route 388. The road from Castlewood continues on after crossing the Ellwood City road, but is a dirt road. The intersection is on a knoll, he stated, the road to the east, south, and north

Federal Administrator De-

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Indications were manifest today that a "break" in the three-month legislative jam on new taxation was developing to the point of action on revenue bills.

A group of Senate Republican majority leaders met informally this morning and took up one by one the administration tax proposals now bottled up on the Senate finance committee. Senate sessions were delayed from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m. for the conference.

To Report Bills

It was believed majority leaders would decide to report from committee tax bills agreed upon both by Gov. George H. Earle and Republicans and bring them up for a vote. As the meeting started, A. G. O. P. spokesman said:

"We can't delay any longer. There ought to be some action after this meeting."

Passage of some of the administration tax bills acceptable to the Senate majority, it was believed, would continue the flow of federal relief funds into the Senate. Relief money now available will last only until May 15. The federal government has decreed that no more funds will be supplied Pennsylvania unless it acts upon a fiscal program carrying $5,000,000 monthly as the state's share for jobless aid.

As the Senate leaders met, Governor Earle was at his desk writing another "fired" talk schedule for 10:30 E. S. T. tonight. His text was expected to be guided largely by the result of the G. O. P. conference, inasmuch as the time of delivery was delayed until after the meeting.

Hopkins Makes New Demand
The governor was fortified in drafting his address by a letter from Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins which, while reiterating the demand that the state furnish $5,000,000 monthly for relief, did not specify the length of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler was expected to utilize the May day celebrations of national solidarity tomorrow to declare the Reich's complete freedom from the "dictated peace."

Hollywood Shooting Claims Third Victim

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, April 30.—Death today claimed the third victim of the weird shooting mystery which started with the murder of Paul Wharton, 25-year-old dress designer Thursday.

Henry Bolte, law instructor, died today of wounds inflicted by the same gun which ended Wharton's life.

William Howard, chauffeur and former naval officer, police have established, shot both Wharton and Bolte before he turned his gun on himself in the hallway of Bolte's apartment.

Meanwhile police continuing their investigation of the case, declared discovery of letters of a convicted felon may disclose a much more sinister aspect to the crime than the suspected money madness of Howard, which heretofore had been blamed for the killings.

Officers said the letters established that Bolte was an acquaintance of W. G. Earl, now awaiting sentence following his conviction of conspiracy to rob a wealthy widow.

Also in the harbor were seven destroyers and the auxiliary and supply ships of the fleet. The auxiliary craft are scheduled to sail Thursday and it is presumed the destroyers will act as a convoy.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—President Roosevelt today repudiated a statement attributed to Brig. Gen. F. M. Mr. Roosevelt's declaration was made in a letter to Rep. John J. McSwain of South Carolina, chairman of the house committee, and sharply rebuked McSwain for giving publicity to Gen. Andrews' testimony, which already has prompted inquiries from the Canadian government.

WILL
SAYS:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 30.—The president made a very encouraging and hopeful speech. On the same day Mussolini spoke to his people.

It's interesting to compare the two speeches, not so much on account of the two men, but on account of difference in temperament of the two races.

Mussolini said, "You have many lean years ahead, you must sacrifice, and bear it!" Now nobody could make that speech to us. We don't want to be told we must "sacrifice, and that we might have lean years coming."

But Mussolini's plan is the best. If he brings his people any little benefits they are tickled to death, but if we don't receive every benefit we are hollering.

Yours,

Will Rogers

HOPE TO LOWER PLANE TRIP TIME

Transport Plane Seeking Record

Transport Plane Leaves California Bound For New York City And New Record

TWO ACCOMPANY PILOT ON FLIGHT

(International News Service)
UNION AIR TERMINAL, LOS ANGELES, April 30.—A huge Douglas transport plane today took off from the Union Air Terminal, piloted by W. D. Tomlinson, and headed for New York in an effort to win back the non-stop transcontinental transport record.

Joe Nikrent, of the National Aeronautics Association, timed the plane off the ground at 4:54 a. m.

The big silver transport shot the air after an exceedingly short run despite its load of 1,350 gallons of gasoline.

It was soon lost into the haze which heralded the approach of the sun over the eastern mountains.

Accompanying Tomlinson was Hal Smead, co-pilot, and Pete Redpath, navigator.

Over Regular Line

It was announced the huge Douglas, standard 14-passenger transport would fly the regular airline course by way of Albuquerque, N. M.; Amarillo, Texas; Kansas City, Mo.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Columbus, O.; Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, Pa., and into New York.

Although definitely refusing to state the time they expected to make on the flight, it was indicated the flyers hoped to reach their New York destination in less than 11 hours actual flying time to shatter all existing records.

almost 50 members present—heard words of assurance from outstanding community leaders.

Words of Appreciation

"If there is anything we need here it's confidence," spoke Fred L. Renti, president of The News, "and you fellows show that you have it. The people of New Castle have confidence in its young men—don't lose it."

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, who addressed the organization before, also spoke briefly. Dickey is treasurer of the senior chamber.

Seated with the young men were other leaders, including Mayor Charles B. Mayne, Louis B. Round and Thomas Boyle, manager of The Castleton.

Presiding as the able toastmaster of the evening was Dean M. Staley, member of the new chamber's board of directors.

President D. D. Young was called upon by the chairman to review the aims and objects of the new organization and to welcome guests and new members. He referred to "youth movements" generally and declared that "we've organized to do New Castle good—that's our main objective."

Officers and directors of the group were introduced individually by the president.

Winner Plays

To add to the evening's enjoyment last night were the two delightful musical numbers played by Charles Coulter, 14-year-old winner of the baritone horn solo event in last Saturday's state-wide music meet in Oil City. Accompanying the talented artist was an able pianist, Harry Schneitzinger.

On the speakers' table rested the handsome Class A orchestra trophy won by the Senior high orchestra at Oil City.

Throughout the dinner hour piano music was played by Daniel Heitger, popular pianist here.

"There are all too few Junior Chambers of Commerce being organized in the United States today," asserted Mr. Sprigle as he began his talk. "There are too many other organizations. It speaks well for the city and well for those who pioneer in the organization when one is formed."

Over-Lapping Government

Going directly into the heart of his talk, the former editor spoke of the crying need for interest in government if only because "you and the millions of men like you throughout the United States are the men who in the last analysis have to find the money to meet the expenses of government."

In parts of his speech he spoke of "over-lapping government." He also dwelt upon the prevailing trend in which government appears to be setting up a "vast code of rules for business."

"I believe it to be wise and just," he said, "that government should set forth rules and regulations for the direction and guidance of business where it affects the rights and the welfare and the happiness of the individual and the community, but these regulations need not be onerous, exacting—they need not be too numerous, particularly at the point where they strangle business."

He declared that out of his 30 years' newspaper experience he drew "some ideas of my own" and he went on to elaborate on them. His main point was the reduction in the number of governmental bureaus and units which apparently duplicate each other in their functions at a great cost to taxpayers.

Officers and directors of the new organization who were introduced earlier in the evening included:

Dr. T. K. Heess, vice president; John O. Huston, secretary; Alfred H. Owens, treasurer, and A. Bruce Ewing, Attorney James E. Chambers, Earl M. Brookover, Robert Hoosier and Stanley Directors. Alec Samuels, another director, was out of town.

On Wednesday, May 1, the junior chamber board will meet at the Y. M. C. A., and on May 13 the regular semi-monthly meeting of the membership will take place.

James Woodrow gave the dinner invocation.

MILK CONTROL BILL IS PASSED

state regulation of the dairy industry, the milk control board issued a renewal of dealers' licenses and price-fixing orders while the bill extending the board's life two years finished its routine route to enactment. The renewals will continue in effect until new licenses can be issued and until the board decides upon price changes.

The action was taken by the board under the present act. Board members were to be reappointed by Governor Earle as soon as he signs the extension act and senate confirmation was expected to be given quickly so the board can continue functioning without a break.

Board Members

Board members are Paul O. Sunday, chairman; A. C. Marburger and Charles T. Carpenter.

In addition to the cash-and-carry and cooperative features, the bill sponsored for the administration by Rep. John Smith, Cumberland, makes it illegal to sell milk in Pennsylvania which has been purchased less than the minimum established by the board.

Other provisions held the dealers' license fees to a top of $5,000 annually for firms selling more than 1,000,000 pounds of milk monthly require Governor Earle to approve all price-fixing orders, make producers as well as dealers liable for violations, require the board to give reasons for all orders, and exempt stores purchasing from licensed dealers from obtaining licenses.

After striking out provisions which would have prevented the cash-and-carry differential and should have put powdered milk under the supervision of the board, the senate passed the bill by a vote of 39 to 9. The house quickly gave unanimous concurrence to amendments made by the senate.

REVISION BILL REACHES SENATE

Referendum In September

As reported to the floor, the Ruth Bill provides a referendum on the question of holding a convention. If this vote is favorable, 20 statewide and 50 district delegates, one each of the latter from each senatorial district, would be elected in November to meet December 2.

The convention would be required to submit all its work at one election, the referendum to be held at either the spring primary or fall election next year. If approved the new constitution would become effective June 1, 1936, or January 1, 1937, depending upon when the referendum was held.

As sponsored by the administration and passed by the house, the Ruth Bill called for a special election May 14 to name delegates to meet in convention June 4. A referendum on the new constitution would be held at the fall election, and if approved it would go into effect January 1, 1936. Under the original bill, 129 delegates would be elected, 27 from the state at large and three from each congressional district.

sloping away from the brow of a hill.

When he arrived on the scene, he found two cars, one on the dirt road, north of the intersection, while the other was partly off the concrete a few feet west of the intersection. The occupants of both cars had left the scene and he went on to the Ellwood City hospital, where he met them. He talked to Harry Selkovits, driver of the car which had been proceeding west towards New Castle, and that Selkovits had said he was proceeding towards New Castle and that the driver of the other car did not stop on entering the intersection. Charles H. Walley, of Rimersburg, the driver of the other car, said he didn't remember what had actually occurred, or whether he stopped or not. Later, he said he had stopped.

The front end of Selkovits' car was damaged, and the rear end of the car showed the marks of a collision, he stated. There was also some damage to the left side of the Walley car. The left door was off and was lying inside the car. There were no marks on the highway.

He said Mrs. McCune had said that their car was coming from the Ellwood City road onto the Ellwood City road and that she didn't remember whether they had stopped at the intersection or not. There is a stop sign 17 feet from the edge of the concrete. There is a clear view of around 800 feet in the direction of Ellwood City on the concrete road, and about 150 feet towards New Castle.

The day was showery and the roads were a little wet, Mr. Lawton stated.

Doctor On Scene

Dr. H. E. Helling, of Ellwood City, told of coming on the scene of the collision, immediately after it happened. The Walley car was lying on its left side, with the wheels pointing in the direction of Ellwood City, and when the car was righted, Mrs. McCune fell out on top of it. He said he did not see Mr. McCune at that time, but that he saw Mrs. McCune on the car. He examined them all. Walley got up after a few seconds, but seemed dazed he said. Mrs. McCune was unconscious, while Mr. McCune was in a hysterical condition. He ordered them removed to the Ellwood City hospital.

Mrs. McCune was taken to the hospital by Miss Elizabeth Sowry, of Ellwood City. Mr. McCune was taken to the hospital by men from the Bell Telephone Company. He called the hospital and then proceeded on to the institution to take care of the injured. McCune, he said, showed evidence of serious injury to the brain, and died the next morning at 5:30, without regaining consciousness. Walley was able to leave the hospital the next day.

McCune, he said, had received a compound fracture of the pelvis. James McKee, of Crawford avenue, driver for the C. A. Crowl Company, told of coming on the accident just as it was happening. He said there were two young men in the car with him, David Brown and Henry Webber. As they were coming up the hill toward the Castledown intersection, Webber exclaimed, "Look at that car spin."

When he looked, he said he saw a machine off to the left of the road. He said they drove off the concrete on the right side, at the intersection and went to the aid of the occupants of the Walley car, which they righted. Walley and Mrs. McCune were out of the car, and as they lifted it, McCune fell out on top of them. He said it had rained a little but that the road was not slippery.

Saw Car Spin

Henry Webber, said that he was riding with McKee. As they were about a hundred feet away from the Castledown intersection, which lies slightly over the brow of a hill, he saw a car come out of the road from the direction of Castledown and proceeded across the road, and another car spin around on the road, directly after it had passed.

Mrs. Edna Purdie, of Castledown, who was in the home of her sister at the southeast corner of the intersection, said she heard a crash and looked out of her sister's home and saw the car piled up. She went back in the house but came out again a few minutes afterwards and went to the Ellwood City hospital with Mrs. McCune.

On the way to the Ellwood City hospital, she said Mrs. McCune had said, "I swear I don't know what happened," and "If we had only stopped."

Samuel Houk, of Castledown told of coming to the accident scene after the collision had occurred, and of holding McCune while he was taken to the hospital in a car containing two men from the Bell Telephone company.

Walley Testifies

Charles H. Walley, of Rimersburg, driver of the machine in which Mr. McCune had been a passenger, said he had come to the Ort home at Castledown for a short visit, on his way to Sharon. He was going to take Mr. and Mrs. McCune to New Castle. As they started out the road, he said Mrs. McCune told him it was a bad intersection and that several bad accidents had occurred at that point. He said there is a stop sign at the point.

Before going out onto the highway, he stopped, and his engine being cold, the motor went dead.

There was not a car in sight to the right, he said, and he started the engine and drove out onto the concrete highway. He intended to swing to the left after getting out onto the road, but just as they got to the white line in the center of the road, Mrs. McCune exclaimed that a car was coming. He looked up and saw Selkovits' machine only about 75 feet away. He gave his car the gas to get across the highway and thought he had cleared it safely, and when they were in the air and he remembered nothing more. He said Selkovits was coming at a speed of around 75 miles an hour.

Story Of Selkovits

Harry Selkovits, of 244 Franklin avenue, Aliquippa, said he had been visiting his sister in Ellwood City and was enroute to New Castle. He was well acquainted with the road having driven it often.

As he neared the Castledown road intersection, he said there is a highway sign, signifying road intersection and that he looked toward the left, then as he got nearer, to the right and again to the left, when he looked to the left again, he saw the Walley car, only eleven feet away. He was not going over 35 miles an hour he said. He couldn't put on his brakes or swerve his car. He said he knew there was going to be a collision, and cried out, "Oh, My God."

He said his car turned around slightly and ended up at about a 40 degree angle off to the side of the road. His left front wheel had been smashed, and the right of the front end of the car was damaged.

He got out and waved down approaching traffic, in order to get help for the injured people in the other car.

He said he had been driving on the right side of the road, but was about three feet from the edge of the concrete. He had no time to blow his horn, or to apply his brakes, it all happened so quickly.

He said one can see about forty feet down the Castledown road, but that he had not seen the Walley car when he looked toward the intersection and the first he was aware of it, was when he looked up to find it only about ten or eleven feet in front of him.

The verdict of the jury was to the effect that McCune came to his death as a result of injuries received when the car in which he was riding was struck by the machine of Selkovits, on the Ellwood City road, near Harmony Baptist church, Route 388, on April 16.

The jury was composed of James Cooper, William Burton, Harry A. Valle, Stanley Niece, C. E. Allen, and William Reck.

Speakers On Legislation Heard At Woman's Club

Several timely and interesting talks featured the meeting of the Woman's club Monday afternoon, in Highland U. P. church, under the direction of the Legislative department, with Mrs. L. Kohn, chairman.

Speakers were Miss Margaret Toepfer, New Castle's first woman attorney, whose subject was "The Place of Clubwomen in Legislative Life."

Throughout her talk she stressed the importance of women realizing their responsibility in moulding public opinion in matters of legislation. She emphasized the fact that economic legislation should be considered primarily, believing that social legislation will take care of itself if the economic laws are sound.

Instructive five minute talks were given previous to Miss Toepfer's address, by Mrs. Ira Ramsey, vice chairman of the Legislative department; Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, and Mrs. W. A. Taylor.

"The Child Labor Amendment" was discussed by Mrs. Ramsey who divided her subject into three parts; Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow. She gave the history of the movement in America and England, told of the efforts made today to safeguard some 2,000,000 children, and spoke of what the National Recovery Act had accomplished the past year, looking forward to the ratification of the Child Labor Amendment by 12 more states before it becomes the proposed 22nd amendment to the U. S. constitution.

Mrs. Schnebly brought out important facts about "Selective Sterilization," in which she gave appalling statistics about the mentally deficient in the state of Pennsylvania and all over the country today. She said one need only see voters at the polls to realize the need for legislation on this subject, as 11 percent of the voters are of this class and they cannot but help have a dire effect on government.

In speaking of "The Calling of the Constitutional Convention," Mrs. Taylor explained the Ruth and Woodward bill which is now a joint bill in the committee of the Senate. Her talk, as were all of the others, was most timely as early action on these phases of legislation is being eagerly anticipated.

Previous to the speaking program, a business session was held with the president, Mrs. Archibald H. Davis in the chair. Featuring this part of the meeting was the decision of the Woman's club to sponsor a new Girl Scout troop at the Neighborhood House. Miss Christine Butler was present as a representative of the House telling of the need for such an organization among the foreign born girls in rounding out the aim of the Americanization committee to Americanize these citizens.

Mrs. John E. Elliott represented the executive board in presenting changes in the by-laws. Announcement was made that Mrs. R. B. Perry, president of the Southwestern district will bring a caravan of officers from the State Federation for an all day meeting on November 4. The Woman's club will sponsor this assembly and an invitation will be extended to club women in Lawrence, Beaver and Mercer counties to attend.

The history of the Woman's club, compiled by Mrs. John G. Nothdurft, was presented to the club by Mrs. A. H. Davis, and was received with much interest. Being warned that the edition was small, members were eager to secure their copies and distribution was augmented by the announcement of a contest of 25 questions, based on the history, for which a prize will be given for the best reply. All contest papers are to be turned in to Mrs. Nothdurft not later than May 18.

Much interest centers around what the prize is to be as it will not be revealed until it is awarded to the happy recipient at the Historical Tea on May 27.

A number of club members are busy preparing for the pageant entitled "The March of the Club" which will be given in the First U. P. church at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 27. About 35 women will take part in this gala occasion which will mark not only the closing of the club year, but also end the 45th anniversary of the organization. Mrs. F. S. Brennenman is chairman of the committee in charge. Mrs. H. E. Savoy vice chairman, and they will be assisted by Mrs. H. M. Kirk, Mrs. Orville Brown, Mrs. Glen Carpenter and others. Mrs. Robert M. "Crime Castle" Being Scoured By Officials

Fashionable Castle At Warwick Neck, R. I., Is Being Thoroughly Combed

(International News Service)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 30.—Shocked by disclosures of the "crime castle" at fashionable Warwick Neck, Gov. Theodore Francis Green today demanded thorough investigation of possible connivance between gangsters and police.

Pursuant to the executive's call, Mayor John O'Brien of Warwick ordered the city solicitor to initiate the probe.

Eerie Story Unfolded
The eerie story of the nation's most astounding crime syndicate continued to unfold as federal agents, armed with axes and sledgehammers, sought to wrest more secrets from the palatial "crime castle" at Warwick.

Added interest arose today with the dropping of rumors that men of prominence in Rhode Island may be drawn into the governmental net for allegedly furnishing $50,000 to $75,000 cash for loads of contraband liquor. These rumors arose as the federal agents returned to the mysterious-ridden crime fortress.

Find Charred Bones
Already they have found charred bones, possibly human, rotting in a metal box in a cement walk beside $10,000 in banknotes, part of the $120,000 Fall River mail robbery loot. Scrappings of stains from a dungeon wall have been determined as those of human blood. Notebooks have been found, marking numerous socially prominent New Englanders for kidnapping.

And behind flit the wraiths of five gangsters, whose bodies may be encased in the concrete flooring of the mansion. Should they fail to turn up, federal agents believe the answer will lie in the swift-running stream that glides under the building.

Department of justice men admitted the syndicate, which operated from the place under protection of machine gunners who guarded nearby roadways, was responsible for some of the most daring crimes in the east.

Five Men Held
Evidence gathered by the federal men immediately before finding the charred bones, possibly those of a missing gangster, resulted in an almost unprecedented manhunt. Five men were taken into custody, three in New York, one in Los Angeles and one here.

First to fall into the trap was Carl Feltich, reputed "master mind" of the gang, who was surrendered to post office officials by his lawyer and held in $100,000 bail for conspiracy in connection with the Fall River robbery.

Others held are Peter J. DeFlorio, Thomas "Irish Tony" Dugan, alleged member of the "Dutch" Schultz gang; Charles Harrison, a patient in Mt. Sinai hospital, still seriously ill from a shooting which occurred April 12 in New York, and Herbert Hornstein, alias Harris, alleged Feltich chauffeur. The latter was taken in Los Angeles, the others in New York.

DeFlorio aols was wanted for questioning in connection with the murder of Andino Merola in Wrentham, Mass.

ter to Chairman McSwain of the Military Affairs committee, copy of which I enclose.

"Very sincerely,
"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Letter To McSwain

The letter to McSwain follows:
"My Dear Mr. Chairman:

"My attention has been called to 'hearings before committee on military affairs, house of representatives, on HR-661, and HR-4130. This public document includes apparently a full report of an executive session of the committee of which you are chairman.

It is necessary for me most respectfully to call to your attention and that of your committee the fact that if the testimony in executive session is printed in public documents in the same way as testimony in open session, I shall find it necessary as commander-in-chief of the army and navy to require that in the future such testimony be given only after approval by me."

Repudiate Statements
"Referring to page 16 of this printed document, I desire to inform your committee that certain portions of the testimony of Gen. Kilbourne, especially those relating to the Canadian border, do not represent either the policy of this administration or that of the commander-in-chief.

"In the statement of Gen. F. M. Andrews, many portions of said statement, especially those relating to the territory of friendly nations, in Canada, in the Atlantic and in the West Indies, do not represent the policy of the administration or of the commander-in-chief.

Not U. S. Views
"I can go further and state that they do not reflect the views, purposes or motives of the United States government. This government does not in any of its plans or policies envisage the possibility of a change in the friendly relationship between the United States and any foreign country.

"I call your special attention to the fact that this government not only accepts as an accomplished fact that the permanent peace conditions by many generations of friendship between the Canadian and American people, but expects to live up to not only the letter, but the spirit of our treaties relating to the permanent disarmament of 3,000 miles of common boundary.

"Very sincerely,
"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

GERMANY WILL DISCARD TREATY

liance between Germany, Japan, and Poland.

In a public manifesto attacking Fascism and Imperialism, the executive committee of the Communist party urged world workers "by meetings, demonstrations, and strikes to show a willingness for a united struggle under the leadership of proletarian internationalism."

The appeal comprised one of the strongest anti-Fascist attacks ever made by the committee which charged Germany is leading the way to a new imperialist war.

Britains Answer

London, April 30.—Great Britain answered Germany's submarine-building campaign with plans for 240 new fighting planes today as official revelation was made the United States is being kept informed of all developments in Europe's grim armaments race.

Disclosure that the Roosevelt administration had requested full data from Britain on all arms activities confirmed that projected Anglo-German naval race had been postponed until after May 15.

On this date, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is due to make a formal announcement to the world on Germany's rearmament plans. Britain hopes it will be sufficiently placatory to lay the ground work for successful negotiations when British and German naval experts meet the third week in May.

American interest in the current armament race, which reached a new peak when Britain decided to match each of Germany's twelve new submarines with twenty military airplanes, was first manifested when Britain, France and Italy met at Stresa to discuss Hitler's reposition of compulsory military service in the Reich.

The United States government asked to be kept informed of developments at Stresa and afterward, and since that date Washington has been religiously advised of all steps taken by the allies, including those resulting from the situation arising from Germany's naval ambitions.

Pittsburgh Man

Is Given $10,000

For Loss Of Leg

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30—Ten thousand dollars was Charles M. Yoder's reward today for being a good samaritan at the loss of a leg—apparently a rightful compensation for the award was agreed upon before the case went to the jury.

Yoder suffered the injury July 3, 1932, when he was struck by an oncoming car while standing on the running board of a machine in which two injured men were being rushed to a hospital.

Arthur T. Hodgson, Carrick, driver of the car which hit the makeshift ambulance, agreed to the $10,000 settlement.

Submerged Section Of Wheeler-Rayburn Bill Creates Big Protest

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30.—One rather submerged section of the Wheeler-Rayburn anti-holding company bill which hitherto had received little attention but which is now provoking an increasing storm of denunciation serves as a classic illustration of how the young brain trusters imported by the New Deal are preparing legislation with a reckless disregard of common law and individual rights.

Section In Question.
Briefly the section in question reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of performing service, sales or construction contracts, by use of mails or any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce, to enter into or take any step in the performance of any service, sales or construction contract with any public utility company, with any registered holding company or any subsidiary company thereof . . . in contravention of such rules and regulations or orders regarding reports, accounts, costs, competitive bidding, disclosure of interest, duration of contracts and similar matters as the Federal Power Commission shall prescribe or issue."

Significance Is Realized.
Passed off lightly at first, the significance of this provision written into the bill by the young New Deal lawyers has become reprehensible to even many legislators favoring utility control. In effect, the section would not only supervise utility companies but would seek to place at the mercy of the power commission every establishment using the mails or other interstate agencies in doing business with power firms. Proponents of the legislation are excusing themselves for this blunder by pointing out they didn't draft the bill.

Local Illustration.

To illustrate just how extensive are the provisions of this section it may be pointed out that under it the smallest merchant down to the dealer selling pencils and paper to the P. & O. Electric company in New Castle would be subject to supervision by the Federal Power Commission if he used the mails or . . . interstate agency in his business with the company. An insurance company could not even write insurance for the power firm without subjecting itself to control by the power commission unless it carried out all of the transactions by personal contact. A painter, plumber, electrician, janitor or window washer would have to submit himself to the dictates of the commission if he submitted an estimate for services to the light company.

The small merchant, the insurance company, the painter, plumber, electrician, janitor and window washer would of necessity be forced to forego doing business with the utility company or else comply with complicated accounting systems, detailed reporting methods and other rules and regulations which the power commission might see fit to prescribe on its own volition. The fact that the utility company might be solely an intra-state establishment would not alter the situation. The power commission would claim jurisdiction upon the ground that the merchant or service man wanting to do business with the utility was using the mail or some interstate agency of communication or transportation.

The small merchant or service man violating any rule of the bill or regulation issued by the power commission might be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. April 29, six arrests on charges as follows: drunkenness 5 and violation of parking law 1.

An accident having happened city council will probably now urge an investigation into the injury of a woman in a driveway at South Jefferson and Lawrence street. Out of the quiz may come an alleviation of the condition although it was reported in council meeting yesterday that the driveway, cut six inches below the sidewalk, was built according to ordinance. Most driveways are sloped so that no one will fall over a "precipice" or stub their feet in ascending from the driveway. The site where the driveway exists is not illuminated very well, hence the injury to a pedestrian.

Council has apparently been somewhat dilatory in determining whether or not Thomas H. Hitchcock should be reimbursed for damage done to his automobile by a sign which extended from a pole, he claims, into East Washington street carway. The accident occurred last fall. He has been before council several times. Upon one occasion the city solicitor said the city was not liable. The next move was a further inspection of the pole, the sign having been relocated by the city. Mr. Hitchcock claims his son was driving the car and he can prove by the city's own employees that the sign extended into the carway.

Having been told by council that if the residents of Crescent avenue acquired certain pieces of property and gave deeds to the city, Crescent avenue would be ordained, Mr. Sullivan appeared before the body yesterday and told them in very few words that the residents having done their part the city should do its part. The matter has dragged on for some time. According to Councilman Butler the solicitor, Robert White said that if the city ordained the avenue that the city would be responsible for damages. Mayor Mayne gave orders yesterday that plans for ordaining the avenue should be prepared immediately.

It is reported that city council will be requested to ask the Relief Works division here to put through a project whereby people will hear band concerts here this summer. The plan is not to keep the band playing each Sunday in Cascade park but to have it become a traveling band, that is furnish music on different Sundays in different parks.

Having refused to officially recognize Daylight Savings Time council did go on unofficial record yesterday as being willing to put employees to work on fast time. Council believes that someone should have the question submitted to a vote of the people and then the city council would not be put on the spot each year.

Cost Of Living Mounts Rapidly

Electric Rates Have Decreased, Food Prices May Be Stationary For While

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—A report showing that the cost of living has increased nearly 40 per cent since 1913 while electric rates have decreased almost that amount during the same period, was submitted to the senate commerce committee today by the committee of public utility executives. The report was filed in connection with the proposed bill to regulate and ultimately dissolve utility holding companies by 1940.

Meanwhile the AAA predicted food prices, which have been rising rapidly during recent months, will remain stationary for a few months. The AAA claimed the cost of feeding a family March 12, 1935, still was 19 per cent less than it was five years ago.

Romance comes to the girl who guards against COSMETIC SKIN

SOFT, SMOOTH SKIN wins romance—tender moments no woman ever forgets! So what a shame it is when good looks are spoiled by ugly Cosmetic Skin. It's so unnecessary to risk this modern complexion trouble—enlarged pores, tiny blemishes, blackheads, perhaps.

It is when stale rouge and powder are left choking the pores that these signs of Cosmetic Skin appear. That's why every day more and more women are adopting Hollywood's beauty care to guard against this danger.

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its ACTIVE lather guards against dangerous pore clogging because it cleans so deeply—gently carries away every vestige of dust, dirt, embedded powder and rouge.

You can use cosmetics all you wish if you remove them this safe, gentle way.

Before you put on fresh make-up during the day—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night—use Lux Toilet Soap.

Remember, this is the fine, white soap 9 out of 10 screen stars have used for years. It will protect your skin—give it that smooth, cared-for look that's so appealing.

On Court House Hill

Commission as notary Public has been filed by E. F. Connelly at the register and recorder's office.

About 175 persons are now receiving checks from the old age pension fund. Others are expected to come through soon.

Ray H. Aylesworth, who has been receiver for the Pittsburgh Company of Ellwood City, has been appointed for another year. He makes regular reports to court of his activities in settling up the company's affairs.

Under the will of the late James Speer of the second ward, the residence at Highland avenue, is left to a daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Shaddick in appreciation of care and nursing during decedent's latter days. The remainder of the estate is divided between Mrs. Mary B. Shaddick and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Ward, share and share alike. Mary B. Shaddick, is named as executrix.

There were sixty-two instruments of all kinds placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number thirty were deeds and fifteen were mortgages. The deeds included a number of properties that had been sold at sheriff sale. Three Home Owners Loan Corporation mortgages, totaling about $4,700.

Specific performance of a contract is asked in a petition of John V. Pellonen, presented to court yesterday. Pellonen had an article of agreement with the late John W. Keast to buy 19 acres of land in Slippery Rock township. The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, administrator of the Keast estate, was authorized to make a deed for the property.

Workmen have repaired damage done to the roof of the court house, when several slate were blown off during the storm last week. The greatest expense will be on the ceiling of the court house N. I, where a section of plaster about two yards square dropped off on becoming water soaked. There are also several spots on the ceiling paper, indicating other leaks. It is probable that the whole ceiling will have to be papered after the plaster is repaired.

Attorney R. L. Wallace, administrator in the estate of R. J. Berry presented a petition in court, asking that a deed for land taken in the name of Berry, be transferred to the Ohio Oil Company. Mr. Berry, whose home was in Ohio, was vice president of the Ohio Oil Company and bought the land for the company, but died before he could have it transferred. The petition was granted.

Citizens of Lawrence county will learn with regret of the decision of Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell to retire from office at the end of his present term. Mr. Campbell has been in poor health for some time, and three physicians have advised him that owing to his physical condition, it would be hazardous for him to engage in another campaign. It is likely that Mr. Campbell could be elected again with very little effort, but it would be impossible to escape some nervous strain, and in his present condition his physicians think it unwise for him to take the chance. Mr. Campbell has been connected with the offices of prothonotary and clerk of courts for over half a century, extending over fifty years service last January. During that time he has been elected to the office six times. The remainder of the time he was first deputy. His intimate knowledge of all the records during the past half century has rendered his services invaluable to attorneys and citizens alike. No man has ever held office so long in Lawrence county court house, and the remarkable fact in connection with his long years of service is this. The people have not become tired of Ralph Campbell as an office holder. Usually the public demands a change, no matter how good an official is in office, but with Campbell, it has been different. He has combined a pleasing personality, an obliging disposition and a thorough knowledge of his job in such a way as to make and hold friends from the day he first entered the courthouse under his father, the late Prothonotary D. I. Campbell, until the present time. Ralph Campbell seems to be as much a part of the court house as the pillars in front, but unlike the pillars, he is subject to the physical conditions of life. He is probably good for many years of activity, but the time has come when he must conserve his energies, and the announcement that he will not again be a candidate, will no doubt be received with regret by citizens generally throughout the city and county.

STOP USING DRUGS FOR CONSTIPATION. EAT HONEY KRUSHED WHEAT BREAD

Doctors Warn Against the Use Of Irritating Drugs. New Honey Krushed Wheat Bread Relieves Bowel Troubles in Nature's Own Way!

Your family doctor will tell you that the use of drugs, purges and strong cathartics often does serious harm instead of correcting constipation and bowel disorders. Most of them irritate the delicate membrane lining of the stomach and intestines and compel you to take more and more.

The new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread relieves constipation in a natural way by supplying the diet with just the required amount of roughage to prevent clogged intestines. It also contains a liberal supply of pure honey and other ingredients which have a stimulating, gentle action upon the intestines.

Hundreds of local people are ending their bowel worries by eating the delicious new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. Its delightful taste and delightful action is amazing. It is especially recommended for children as Honey Krushed Wheat Bread will not "clog up" in the large intestine as is sometimes the case with bran.

If you have tried eating whole wheat breads but do not care for their flat, woody taste, a new taste thrill awaits you when you eat Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. It is totally different from any bread you have eaten heretofore. Yet it safely relieves constipation through the use of the whole wheat in crushed form, pure honey and other ingredients.

Make This Ten-Day Test
Instead of taking laxatives two or three times a week, all you need do is start eating Honey Krushed Wheat Bread at every meal for the next ten days. After the third or fourth day you will begin to feel more peppy, your bowels will begin to move regularly and the dangerous poisons which have accumulated in your system will be gone. Before you know it your complexion will clear up and you will feel like a new person. Then keep well supplied with this simple new way by eating Honey Krushed Wheat Bread at every meal.

Ask your grocer today for the new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. It is a all ready sliced, wrapped in new moisture proof cellophane wrapper and has a liberal extra coating of crushed wheat upon the outer crust. Be sure to ask for Honey Krushed. Do not accept substitutes. Adv.

Bomb Outrage At McKeesport Store

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—A woman was knocked unconscious and four other persons were periled today in an explosion which rocked downtown McKeesport and damaged 12 business establishments.

The blast was in the grocery of Berarducci Brothers. It was learned by police that within the last year two bombs had been tossed on the residence porches of Anthony and "Patsy" Berarducci, owners of the store.

Mrs. Rachael Morrel, was cut by glass and became unconscious. With her husband, James, and her three children, she was asleep over the store at the time. The Morrels are owners of the property.

Windows of 12 business establishments were broken. Windows in more than 10 apartment houses were also broken. The debris tied up street traffic for more than an hour.

Two policemen said that shortly before the blast they had seen a "mysterious car" near the grocery and had chased it only to be out-distanced.

Class President Has Actor Role

Appears In Senior Play Tonight —Miss Dietterle Also In Cast

James Merton Dart, popular president of the June graduating class, is one of the cast of their commencement play, "Growing Up." Chosen for the role of traffic officer, he appears in one of the dramatic high points of the comedy. A stripped car, youth's urgent haste, a traffic light that was red when it should have been green, and a city street which at the moment should have been a motor speedway, make the proper setting for a traffic officer's extreme annoyance. The seniors are coming out en masse to see what James would do if greatly annoyed. Young Dart is the nephew of Miss Iretta V. Dart, with whom he makes his home.

Lillian Ruth Dietterle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dietterle, is cast for the role of Patty in the Senior High school play, "Growing Up." Patty is one of the neighborhood crowd of young people who succeed in stirring up considerable excitement on the stage as the progress of Miss Dietterle is well-known in the local school for her interest in dramatics and athletics.

New Gently Regulative Bread Made with Two Natural Laxative Food Elements Promotes Regularity Without Harmful Drugs!

• Most men are victims of unnatural living habits today. Constant strain . . . worry . . . too little rest . . . faulty diet . . . these are the things that have made constipation the most common of all complaints! This results in the quick spread of poisons through the system . . . followed by coated tongue, bad breath, upset nerves, tired muscles or more serious disorders.

When you notice these symptoms in some one you love, look out! Prompt steps are necessary to restore normal, regular conditions. PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD offers a way out. It is naturally laxative because it is made of two natural laxative food elements . . . flaked wheat and concentrated prune juice.

Rush Action On City Merger Bill

State Senate Sends Consolidation Bill To House For Approval

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 30.—Approved by the senate, the Reed bill amending the procedure in referendum for consolidation of two cities today was sent to the house where quick approval was expected after an insertion making the bill effective for the pending consolidation of Farrell and Sharon which caused its introduction.

The bill, as passed by the senate without debate or dissenting vote, provides that in consolidation votes a majority of the voters of each affected city must approve the merger. It was sponsored by officials of Farrell who oppose consolidation with Sharon.

In the house the bill was to be amended to insert a provision making it effective immediately upon signature of Gov. George H. Earle. At present the bill carries no effective date and thus would automatically become a law, if signed by the governor, on September 1. A special election vote on the Farrell-Sharon merger is expected before that time.

Farrell officials were here last night conferring with legislative leaders concerning the amendment.

Oppose Proposal For Military Landing Field Near Canadian Border

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The state department will definitely oppose any move by the war department to establish military landing fields in the northern part of the United States which might endanger the century-old agreement for a defenseless frontier between the United States and Canada.

This was learned today as re-arrangement still flared in army quarters over publication by the house of military affairs committee of secret testimony by air corps officers affecting national defense.

This testimony included a statement by Brig.-Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, former assistant chief of staff in charge of war plans, that "intermediate" landing stations were contemplated for the air corps in the Great Lakes area.

The state department's position was that nothing should be done to interfere with the Rush-Bagot agreement whereby the United States and Canada promised 118 years ago never again to fortify or militarize their respective frontiers.

A pride of American diplomacy, that agreement is held by the state department to be one of the most advanced steps ever taken for the maintenance of friendly relations between nations. Officials never tire of citing it to the rest of the world as an ideal to be followed.

Should the army plans for landing fields in the Great Lakes area raise serious objections from the Canadian government, it was considered likely the state department would seek to induce the war department to abandon the plans if a compromise agreement could not be reached with Canada.

NOTABLES TO HONOR LEGION COMMANDER HERE

Distinguished Guests Coming To Big Banquet

Members Of Governor Earl's Cabinet Will Accompany Him Here Next Week

BIG ATTENDANCE IS LOOKED FOR

National Commander Frank N. Belgrano of the American Legion will probably find as distinguished a gathering when he visits New Castle Thursday evening May 9, for the annual banquet of the American Legion posts of the 26th District and surrounding territory, as he will find assembled at any similar function in the country.

In addition to all the officials of the Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion, and many from Ohio, he will find Governor George H. Earle, one of the eleven governors who are Legionnaires and many members of Governor Earle's cabinet, who are also ex-service men.

Among those who have accepted invitations to attend are Adjutant General Frederick B. Kerr, Ralph M. Bashore, Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters; Arthur Colegrave Secretary of Property and Supplies; Dr. J. Evan Scheehle, Secretary of the Department of Public Welfare and Edward N. Jones, Secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry. State Commander James H. Isherwood, of the Department of Pennsylvania will of course be present, and the Ohio Department Commander, William Konold of Warren, O., will also attend.

The last visit of the Visitation committee will take place on Thursday evening, when they will go to Oil City, to invite the posts of that district to come to the gathering here.

Sale of tickets locally will be stopped on Friday of this week. Ticket Chairman Thomas Edmunds states as it is not the desire to oversell the event the accommodations being limited to 2,000.

Rejection And Selection.
Why Nations Fall.
Wanted: Cash Money.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

NATIONS RISE to great heights, glorious power, then crumble, disappear, desert sands cover their streets and temples. Patient archeology digs them out and wonders. Read Volney's "Ruins of Empires" to find that process well described.

What causes it? Do nations grow old and die "naturally," inevitably as individuals do? Sometimes plagues wipe them out, the black death nearly destroyed Europe. Malaria tore down the power of Rome and recently killed some fifty thousand, following a sudden mosquito attack in the Far East.

OUR SAND storms, recurring in the West with increased violence, indicate one danger to national life. You read of fertile fields buried in sand, many dead of pneumonia caused by dust entering the lungs, the mortality from all diseases in the dust area increased by 35 per cent.

The two most fertile spots on the earth, cradles of the earliest permanent civilization, Egypt and Mesopotamia, fed and irrigated by great rivers, are dismal places now, with sand covering great tracts that once were "fertile Egypt" and "glorious Mesopotamia," but a memory. Sand storms, dust storms and erosion have helped destroy. Unwise cultivation or lack of it helped more. Unwise cultivation in the West, aggravated by drought may account in part for dust storms. Those storms are abnormal. Had they been normal, areas afflicted would long since have disappeared under blankets of dust and sand and turned to desert.

THE "TOWNSEND PLAN," promising everybody, past sixty, $200 a month, which would cost the country about twenty thousand million dollars a year, in added taxation, issues a little paper called "Official Townsend Weekly."

Headlines in big type say "Townsend calls for intensive support now. Townsend cites need of money to further plans."

Above the signature "Your friend, Francis E. Townsend, M. D.," you read:

"My friends, we must get ready for any eventuality," and "Oh, friends, we seriously need money. The life of the nation as a democracy is at stake. Send in your gift now."

"Send all that you possibly can spare. We need fifteen thousand dollars per month for the work."

Nobody questions the sincerity of Dr. Townsend, or the desire of his associates to collect $15,000 a month. But many, "past sixty" will prefer the reasonable old age pension that President Roosevelt will actually give them, to $200 a month that they will never get.

All but the very innocent will hesitate to subscribe to the fifteen thousand dollars a month fund. EUROPEAN NEWS will make Chancellor Hitler thoughtful. France and Russia, their difficulties smoothed out, have drawn a "mutual military assistance pact." Germany stands now between two powerful fighting nations, France with the greatest fighting air fleet in the world on the west, and Russia with the next greatest fighting air fleet on the east.

This makes a situation dangerous to Hitler if he should decide to "go to war." French and Russian air fleets could wipe out Berlin in less time than it would take to dig a line of trenches in the old 1914 days.

THE FRENCH-RUSSIAN alliance is important to Japan also. If Japan for any reason should strike at Russia, France would be bound with all her resources, air and surface fleets, to go to Russia's assistance.

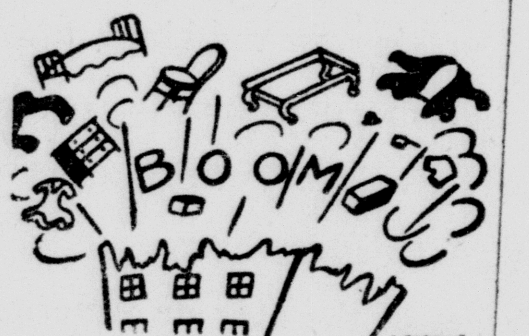

French mothers who recently saw their babies born in 1914 marching off in new uniforms to join the army will not like the talk of war scattered all over the world, but the French-Russian treaty will probably contribute to the safety of those 1914 babies.

Wise England stands aside, talking politely, adding forty squadrons to her fighting air force, keeping out of agreements. She had enough between 1914 and the armistice.

MIGHTIER than a KING

Five hundred years ago Columbus sailed for India by heading Westward. The Queen of Spain, who paid for his trip, waited seven months before she knew what happened to him. Yet, for those days, Columbus was a fast sailor.

Even one hundred and fifty years ago it took five days for the news of Washington's victory at Yorktown to reach Philadelphia.

Only eighty-five years ago the first covered wagon from east of the Mississippi jolted into California more than a year after the discovery of gold.

Once upon a time speed was the exclusive privilege of titled royalty. Only kings, in the olden days, could arrange for frequent changes of horses along the route of their carriages. Only princes could send "swift" caravans and ships to bring back rare delicacies for their banquet tables. Only feudal lords could pay for fleet-footed carriers of news and messages.

The common man could not travel beyond the narrow limits of his small rented plot of ground. His bill of fare and his clothing had to be what he raised or made, himself. His only information of outside happenings was supplied by vaguest rumor.

Once the right of kings, speed today is the servant of all. The common citizen of today is mightier by far than the king of yesterday.

This nation was spanned from coast to coast in twelve hours and six minutes in 1934 by a commercial plane. In the same year, a streamlined train covered the same route in fifty-six hours and fifty-five minutes. Millions of automobiles push our horizons far beyond our neighbors' landmarks.

Many times more important is the swiftness with which things we need or desire are brought to us. Yet the combined wealth of ancient kings could not have paid for the upkeep of modern transportation and communication. They have been developed because everyman has wanted the luxuries formerly the exclusive privilege of royalty.

Whenever the demand of the public has been great enough, science and volume production have sought and usually found the way to change luxuries into moderately priced items of everyday use. Instead of displaying their wares and praying for the king's favor, American merchants and manufacturers have decreased costs by announcing their products to the common man everywhere through advertising.

Consider the advantages of the average American citizen of today. Fresh vegetables and fruit can be had the year round. A thousand varieties of foods are at our call. Reliable drugs and spices serve his needs. Cosmetics adorn charming queens and gay princesses. Clothes of the latest style reach immediately the farthest stores. All manner of useful household goods put ancient castles to shame. All because of speed—speed in shipment, speed in news of events, and speed in advertising.

Neither the power nor wealth of former kings could pay for the prompt, accurate report of news and notices of goods now furnished by the public press. Yet, when there are millions of customers created by advertising, and when the cost is divided among the millions, each common man finds himself mightier than a king.

Hearing Held In
Disbarment CaseAttorney M. J. Kraus Before
Court On Charges Of Unethical Conduct

Testimony in disbarment proceedings brought by a committee of the Lawrence County Bar Association against Attorney M. J. Kraus was heard today before Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers. Attorney Kraus had claimed that he had not received a proper notice to appear before the committee, when the complaints against him were presented.

He filed an answer in which he denied the allegations and asked to be permitted to have a further hearing. This was granted and the hearing today was the result.

The chief complaint seems to be that Kraus had been entrusted with money of clients and did not have it ready for them at the time they called for it, although he claims that he afterwards produced it.

One of the claims was in connection with the Foley case in quarter sessions court. Cash bail in the sum of $1000 had been placed in Kraus' hands to be used in securing the release of Foley pending trial. It was claimed that after Foley had been tried, a demand for the return of the bail was made. Kraus charged his fees, amounting to about $280 against it, and returned the balance.

There was also another case in which Walter Rice, superintendent of the Crescent Portland cement case had placed $400 in Kraus hands, and over which there had been trouble. The hearing is still in progress.

Further Relief
For Tax PayersNew Measure Makes Pro-

Penalties On Delin-

MUST BE PAID

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 30.—Further relief for harrassed Pennsylvania taxpayers was in sight today as a result of passage in the house of the Huffman-Rankin senate bill abating penalties and interest on delinquent taxes for five years provided current taxes are paid.

The measure was passed 192 to 12 after extended debate early this morning and was expected to receive Gov. George H. Earl's signature.

By paying 1935 taxes in full, taxpayers will be allowed five years in which to pay delinquent 1934 taxes in five 20 per cent installments on or before each November 1. Interest and penalties will be abated.

The bill applies to all municipal, school and poor district taxes except those levied in Philadelphia. A separate bill drawn for Philadelphia, abating penalties and interest for only two years, is now progressing through the legislature.

Sponsored by Sen. Harvey Huffman, Monroe, and George Rankin, Allegheny, the bill was supported by the joint tax conference committee of the Pennsylvania Real Estate association.

Supporters of the bill asserted it would assist home and farm owners in retaining possession of their properties, would boost the percentage of current tax collections thereby making possible a reduction in millage rates and would prevent the development of a "racket" by unscrupulous taxpayers.

Fistic Players May Draw Fines

President Ford Frick May Impose Fines On Lavagetto, Joiner, Bush, Grimm And Jurgens

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 30.—The chesty Cubs and the pugnacious Pirates nervously awaited word today from Referee Ford Frick which may decide the final winner of the fistic warfare which enlivened yesterday's ball game at Wrigley field, won by the Cubs, 12 to 11.

Telegrams from Frick, president of the National League, may bring the news that all participants in "the battle of the fifth inning" have to shell out some hard-earned cash to pay for their fun. Referee Frick might also decide to hand a brief suspension to Bill Jurgens, Roy Joiner, Charlie Grimm, Guy Bush and possibly Harry Lavagetto.

With the Pirates leading, 5 to 2, in the fifth and a man on second, Lavagetto, Pirates second baseman, slammed a double. He slid into second base only to come up swinging and contending that Jurgens stepped on his foot.

Bush Infuriated
Jurgens started swinging, too, and by the time Umpire George Magerkurth separated them there were 60 ball players swarming around.

Suddenly a wild man charged through the crowd, flailing furiously. It was Guy Bush, Pirates pitcher who was unceremoniously traded off by the Cubs in the dead of winter. Bush landed a punch on the back of pitcher Roy Joiner's neck, mates finally sat on both. Then Manager Grimm of the Cubs broke loose and started after Bush, but Grimm was finally subdued without casualty.

Jurgens, Joiner, Lavagetto and Bush were banished to the showers.

PAUL DEAN WINS HIS THIRD GAME

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 30.—All indications point to a record crop of shut-outs, low hit games and home runs in the majors this year.

With the season only a fortnight old, we've had a plethora of homers, several one and two-hitters and a flock of whitewashes.

The seeming paradox is due to the fact that there is more rabbit than ever in the ball but it also has raised stitches. Therefore, if a pitcher has his stuff and control, the hitters are helpless. If not, the pitchers get slaughtered. No half way measures go.

Pirates-Cubs Battle
Witness, for instance, events at the Yankee stadium yesterday, where Lefty Gomez led the Senators down with four hits to earn a 2-0 decision.

Witness, also, the Pirate-Cubs fracas, wherein the Pirates used three throwers and the Cubs seven. There were six homers blasted into the bleachers or out of the park and the Cubs staged a 10-run rally in the eighth to clinch the game, 12 to 11.

Witness, too, the Red Sox 10-8 victory over the A's in 11 heats. The A's are still victims of their own throwers and although they pounded five Sox heaters, their own three tossers were even worse and to add to their woes, the finishing touch was supplied by their old buddy, Bing Miller, who pinch-hit successfully with the bases loaded in the final stanza.

Paul Dean Wins
Then contrast that with Paul Dean's third win—a six hit, 7-2, effort against the Reds.

Then back to the Philly-Braves battle where Jimmy Wilson's alleged pitchers were beaten, 7 to 5, largely because they issued ten passes, which is undue generosity in any league. And to add to Jimmy's grief, he was skulled by a pitched ball. Even a trip to the hospital must have been a relief to him after catching his own pitchers.

The poor Phils couldn't win even when Babe Ruth handed them four runs by misjudging two fly balls. That's tops for Babe but unfortunately the Braves will not always be playing the Phils.

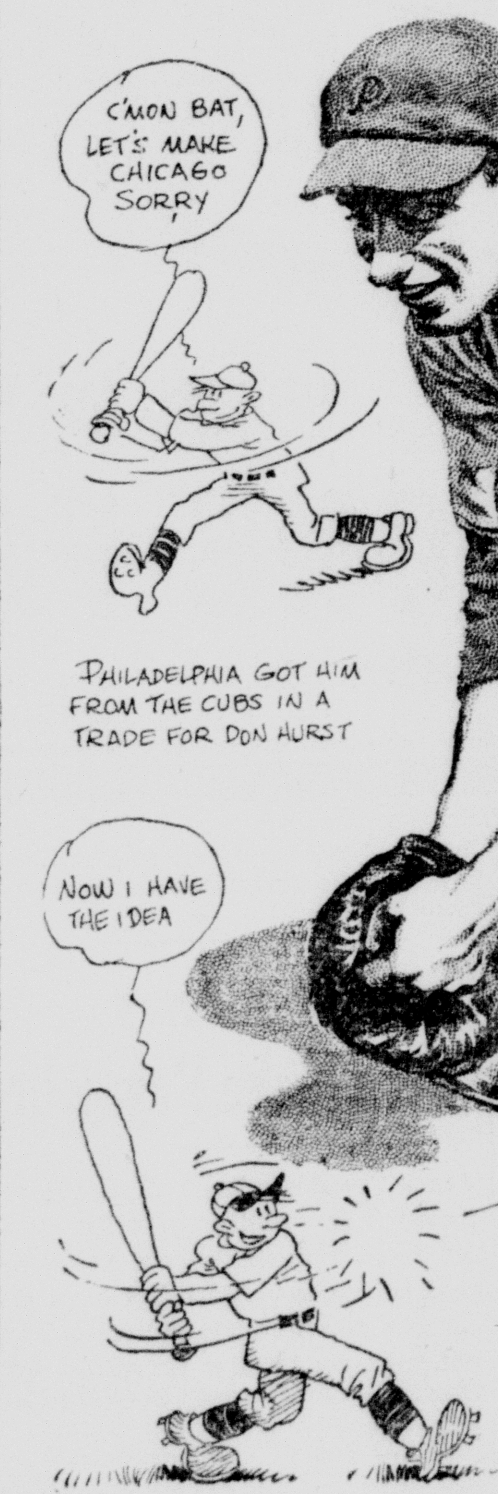

Tigers Swamp Browns
And now to clinch the point about the pitching and hitting, take a gander at the Tiger-Brown affair, in which the Tigers enjoyed a field day at the expense of Buck Newsom and his successors of the St. Louis staff. Poor Buck promised Rajah Hornsby he'd win 20 games this year but today all he has to show for his efforts are four straight defeats.

Tommy Bridges turned in a 7-hit shut-out for the Tigers while the Browns were buried under an avalanche of slugging and wound up, 18-0 in the red.

Senior High Girls Enthused By Drills

Judging from the enthusiasm shown by the Senior High Girls the drills by Miss Sara "Sal" McGoun at the Sports Carnival at Taggart field Friday night will be one of the real highlights of the fine program that has been arranged by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner in connection with the Glassport-New Castle High night grid battle.

Miss McGoun is busily engaged in putting the finishing touches to the splendid drill by about 175 or 200 beautiful young Senior High girls. The drill this year promises to surpass in loveliness the very fine drill of last year at Taggart field.

Following are the opinions of four young Senior High girls on the coming performance at Taggart field.

Patricia Maher
Miss Patricia Maher of 615 West Washington St., one of the young ladies who has always taken a leading part in exhibitions of this type has the following to say about this year's drill: "I think our drill this year will be better and more interesting than the one we gave last year." "We girls think the Spring Sports Festival is a splendid idea and we are glad to take part." "It gives us a chance to show to our parents and friends a small part of the health education we receive under Miss McGoun." "We hope very much that New Castle people will support this type of entertainment as it makes our work more interesting and gives us something to prepare specially for and to look forward to."

Dorothy Pugh
Miss Dorothy Pugh of Sheridan avenue, has this to say: "Sure the boys of good old Senior High can play football and basketball, but when it comes to the finer things of life like marching and drills they are not in it with us girls." "Just come out to Taggart stadium Friday night and we will prove this to you."

Freda Bodendorfer
Miss Freda Bodendorfer of 715 Young St. another participant spoke as follows: "We girls think the Spring Sports Festival is a fine idea. During the fall and winter the boys at Senior High seem to get all the glory and pleasure of playing their football and basketball games before the people of New Castle and the student body and a performance such as The Sports Festival gives us girls a chance to show that the girls are just as good in their line as the boys are in theirs." "It also gives us a chance to show that Miss McGoun in her work at Senior High is on a par with Coaches Bridenbaugh, Thomas and Klee."

Dorothy Pugh
Miss Dorothy Pugh of Sheridan avenue, has this to say: "Sure the boys of good old Senior High can play football and basketball, but when it comes to the finer things of life like marching and drills they are not in it with us girls." Jurgens-Bush Given Fines

President Frick Fines Jurgens And Bush Each $50, Suspended For Several Days

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 30.—Bill Jurgens, shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, today was fined $50 and suspended for three days, and Guy Bush, Pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was fined $50 and set down for five days by Ford Frick, president of the National League, for their battle in the game at Chicago yesterday.

No action was taken in the case of pitcher Roy Joiner of the Cubs or second baseman Harry Lavagetto, who also threw a few punches.

Frick handed out the suspensions and fines without official comment, but off the record, it is known that he got quite a kick out of the fight. Unofficially, Frick likes to see the ball players show some spirit but officially, of course, he cannot sanction a fight on the field.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.
BASEBALL BRIEFS

When Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, started his season, his string of consecutive games stood at 1504. That old shroud injury is again bothering Dixie Walker young Yankee outfielder, and he'll be out of the game for an indefinite period. It's too bad: Dixie seemed on his way to major league stardom before the injury jinx overtook him. Now his future appears quite cloudy.

When Willie Kamm sat on the bench last April 16 while the Indians were playing St. Louis, it was the first time he had missed a season's opener since 1923 when he came up to the White Sox from the Pacific Coast League. . . Buzz Boyle, Brooklyn right fielder, has made a wager with Catcher Al Lopez that he will throw out a man at first base in the Philly ball yard before the season is over.

Dixie Howell, Alabama's football star, has been optioned to Birmingham of the Southern association by the Detroit Tigers. He will probably play in the outfield, his natural position, since the Barons already have Elmer Trapp, Pittsburgh Pirate rookie, available for third base. During the spring training campaign of Detroit, the former football star was stationed at the hot corner. Howell will report to Birmingham as soon as he recovers from a head injury suffered before the season opened. . . When Dizzy Dean was lying on the ground after being hit on the shin by a batted ball in the opener at Chicago, the band struck up the tune "Happy Days Are Here Again."

When Wes Ferrell shut out the Yanks on opening day on two hits he performed the fine pitching exhibition without striking out a man.

This is Waite Hoyt's 20th season in Organized Ball. He broke in with Mt. Carmel in the old Pennsylvania State league in 1916. . . In addition to managing the Bloomington team of the Three Eye League, Burling Grimes expects to take a regular turn on the mound. . . The Italian keystone combination of Lazzeri and Crosetti performing for the Yankees, is apparently headed for a banner season. . . Chat Morgan, Detroit's rookie outfielder, will do as a hitter but his fielding is below par. However, Chat will probably improve defensively since the outfield is comparatively new to him. He started the 1934 season as a third baseman in the Texas league. . . A double play from short to second to first is known as a "six, four three."

Bobby Doerr, 17, and George Myatt, 19 of the Hollywood Sheiks, are said to be the youngest keystone combination ever to perform regularly in the Pacific Coast league. . .

Baer Peeved At Braddock

Coming Heavyweight Battle Promises To Be Quite Lively Affair, Says Maxie

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 30.—Barring those who are in on what is known as the "nuisance value" of the project, the general idea around here is that James J. Braddock is to be just a good, outstanding push in the patio for Mr. and Mrs. Baer's boy, in their heavyweight title fight, as of the night of June 13 next. There being few exceptions, it was naturally a little surprising this morning to learn that one of them might be Mr. and Mrs. Baer's boy himself.

Max Is Mad
He's on his way down to Asbury Park, N. J., to "train as never before." He, the solace of the ladies, is denying them the privilege of his society, at least for purposes of this fight. No cigarettes. No beer. No night clubs. The man simply is going in for clean living in a very lavish way, unless, of course, he finds that his health won't stand it.

In other words, if he never was "right" before, he's going to be that way for Braddock. Why? Because those around him whisper in awed tones, Max is "mad."

He's mad at Braddock for walking in on him in Dempsey's restaurant that day and trying to "show him up in front of his friends." He's mad at the New York boxing commission for forcing him into an "unsatisfactory" match with Braddock.

Rohrer High In Nonpareil Shoot

Karl Rohrer was high man in the shoot of the Nonpareil club, with a brilliant 193 out of a possible 200 at the Nonpareil range in the west side garage. Cifra was second with 190 and third place was held by "Chap" Eckles, with 183. The Nonpareil club will stage another shoot tonight at the range at 7:30 o'clock.

The results of the shoot—Rohrer 193, Cifra 190, Eckles 188, Walsh 187, Eckles 187, Reynolds 183, Barber 185, Pollard 181, Galbreath 178, Vogt 173, Dadds 170, A. Yoho 169, Beckwith 147, V. Gardner 146, Stockman 139, Vassella 133, R. Yoho 132.

Business Men's Golf League To Have Eight Teams

League Will Open At Municipal Course On Tuesday,
May 14

The Business Men's golf league will operate with eight teams in its first year, according to President Charles "Bugs" Walter today. The season will swing open at the Municipal course on Tuesday May 14 at 6 o'clock.

The following teams comprise the league—Universal Pottery, Dentists, P. & O. Electric, Bell Telephone, A. & P. Stores, Independent Grocers, Bankers, and New Castle News. President Walter is busily engaged in drawing up a schedule of games for the league. One match will be played each week, alternating at the Municipal and Castle Hills courses.

A meeting of the league managers and officials has been called for next Monday night at the "Y" at 8 o'clock, D. S. T.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

There will be no meeting of the Lawrence County Baseball league managers at the Sports Good store tonight because James Martin, schedule drafter for the loop has been unable to complete the draft. However word from Bessemer where Martin holds forth is to the effect that everything should be ready for managers study Wednesday night. This may be the last or next to the last meeting before the loop opens May 11. There are 10 teams in the league.

Henry Firpo, former idol of local fight fans, is fighting in New York these days but his latest venture into the ring did not prove victorious for the elongated slugger from Louisville. He tangled with John Anderson, 172 of Sweden in an eight round bout at New York last night and the Swede won the award. Firpo weighed 164 pounds for the bout. On the same card, Bobby Pa-cho, 138, beat Johnny Morro, 133 and Frankie Cinque won from Johnny Edwards, 146. At Newark, Chang Collura, 128 beat Julie Katz, 132; Ray Miller, 168 kayode Roy Frisco, 163 and Ralph Aquino, 134, scored a technical knockout over Paolo Villa, 134. There were three other fights of notice last night. Cletio Locatelli having won from Lew Massey in a lightweight bout at Philadelphia; Lou Lombardi, 138, defeated Frankie Hughes, 140 at Holyoke and Pritzie Zivic won from Freddy Chynoweth, in a junior welterweight bout at Chicago.

Days of yesteryear were recalled by the Chicago battle between Cubs and Pirates at Chicago yesterday. Lavagetto smacked a ball to right and stretched it into a double. He slid into second then stepped toward Jorges then leaped back to the bag. Jorges hit Lavagetto who returned a swing. They were parted but a moment later Joiner and Guy Bush punched each other around Joiner received a swollen jaw. As the fight was subsiding Grimm took offense at Bush's remarks who was being led away. Bush broke away and there probably would have been a resumption of fistie pyrotechnics had not stronger arms took hold of him again. The Cubs won the game 12 to 11.

William Brand of Cincinnati takes his baseball and pigeons more than casually. He was unable to attend the Sunday game between Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago Cubs so he sent a friend and 10 carrier pigeons to Redland field. His friend sent the progress of the game via the pigeons to Brand's home, 10 miles distant.

Managers of all senior baseball teams are requested to send the name of their team, home grounds, also the name, address and telephone number of the team manager to Ed. Fritz of The News. The information is for summer baseball files. The information should be forthcoming immediately. At various times teams wish to arrange games and at other times discrepancies in reports cause an urgent need for quick communication.

Soft Ball Notes

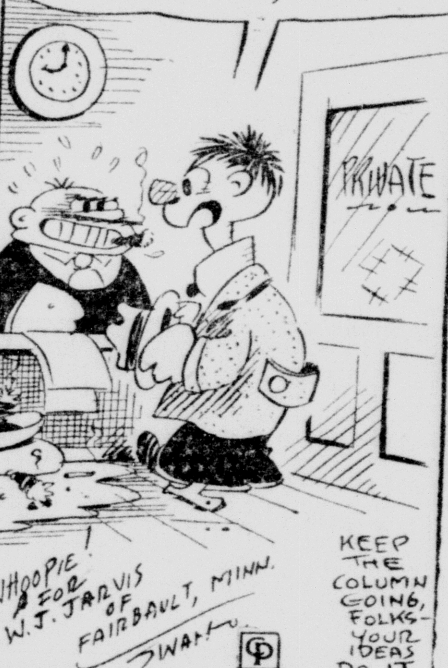

KEYSTONES TO PLAY
Keystone A. C. will play the Croton Progressives a soft ball game tonight at the Carnegie Field at 6 o'clock. Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto wants all of the "Keys" to report promptly. The Keystone social committee will meet at the club tonight at 8 o'clock. James Bartlett, the chairman wants the following to attend the meeting:—Jim Ross, Albert Coletta, Albert Dipalma, Rocco Viggiano, Sam Perretti and John Lemers.

PEARSON A. C. WINS
Pearson A. C. handed the Jeff Robins a 16 to 5 defeat in a soft ball game at B. and O. field, with Lavella pitching a nifty hit game for the Pearsons. Russo featured the game with a homer, while DeFiore, Zingaro and Cagnetti had three hits apiece.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The stock market turned reactionary today with losses running to two points. Atchison lost around a point and other rails were heavy.

Steels sagged, commodities did little, cotton was quiet and grains were lower. Bonds were irregular.

Building stocks staged a flurry with Johns-Manville up a point. The gains were shaded later.

Oils were in demand under leadership of Standards but price changes were small. Mail order and farm implement stocks were firm to moderately higher.

Consolidated Gas dropped around a point. Tobaccos were steady and liquors quiet. Standard Brands broke to a new low as did Pullman.

American Can dropped 2 points.

Departing Minister
Is Given Farewell
Party On Monday

Congregation Of Christian Church Honors Rev. And
Mrs. H. M. Patton

ELLWOOD CITY, April 30.—Rev. and Mrs. Herman M. Patton, who are to leave Thursday to take up their new residence in Charleston, W. Va., were given a farewell party by their congregation of the First Presbyterian church last evening in the church dining room. A large crowd participated in this event.

A splendid dinner was served by the ladies of the church after which a period of pep singing was enjoyed under the leadership of A. J. Howell. This was followed with a reading by Mrs. Harley Maskrey and a vocal solo by Mrs. Thomas Jones. A bass solo was given by Avery Rigby of New Castle, accompanied by Miss Fisher of New Castle.

The feature of the evening was an address by the Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church, who paid high tribute to the honor guests. During the short stay here Rev. and Mrs. Patton had endeared themselves to the entire community. They were always ready to lend a guiding hand in many worthwhile undertakings in the community. The speaker stated that the ministerial association and the city as a whole is going to miss them.

V. V. Johnson gave a short talk of tribute and appreciation in behalf of the congregation. Rev. and Mrs. Patton both responded with a few well chosen words. G. H. Harshman had presided as toastmaster on the occasion. It was with deep regret that Rev. Patton's resignation was accepted last week.

The program closed with a song by the assembly, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Rev. Patton pronounced the benediction.

Huey Believes Campaign Will See Third Party

Returns From Meeting With Mid-West Farmers With Enthusiasm

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Huey Long is about the only politician of prominence in Washington—and Huey is prominent—who believes there will be a third party in the presidential field next year.
The Kingfish who would be king-maker, returned to the capital from his first invasion of the corn-and-hog belt all aglow with what he heard and saw at Des Moines. He spoke there to some 10,000 members of Milo Reno's Farm Holiday association, and they cheered his every blast at the New Deal.

Roosevelt Unpopular
Their applause cheered Huey a lot, and compensated to some extent for his disappointment at not effecting an active coalition with the followers of Father Coughlin's Union for Social Justice, and Dr. Townsend's $200-a-month pensioners. He is still hopeful, however, that the Coughlinites and the Townsends will yet join forces with his share-the-wealth wing and present a headache to both old parties in '36.
His sortie into the mid-west convinced him, Huey said, that President Roosevelt is the "most unpopular man in the country, more unpopular than Hoover, even," and that the Republicans "have nothing to offer." Therefore, he reasons that the time is just about ripe for another party to step in, or will be in another six months.

Plan Funeral For Late Clyde Kelly At Marchand, Pa.

Services Will Be Held Near Summer Home Of Late Former Congressman-Publisher

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., April 30. Funeral services for former congressman Clyde Kelly, known as "father of the airmail," will be held tomorrow near his summer home at Marchand.
Rev. Guy D. Wallace of the First United Presbyterian church, will conduct the rites. Kelly died after he battled gamely for a week to recover from an accidentally self-inflicted gunshot wound received while cleaning his gun.
Kelly was a Braddock newspaper publisher and served in congress for 20 years.
While friends, and former associates mourned his death, Kelly was eulogized in congress where he served for nearly a score of years. Tribute was paid him from the floor of the house of representatives by Rep. Darrow, dean of Pennsylvania's delegation.

"Chiselers" Bill Sent To House For Conference

Would Fine Relief "Chiselers" $500 And Give Them Year In Jail, Under New Bill

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 30.—Approved unanimously by the senate, the Pytko bill providing a $500 fine and a year in jail for the 85,000 "chiselers" State Relief Director Robert L. Johnson estimates are on the relief rolls, was sent to the house today, where quick concurrence was expected.
The bill stipulates that all persons receiving relief must file written applications citing their need for governmental aid. Relief employees found guilty of conspiring with relief recipients to help get them unneeded funds would be subject to the same penalties as those provided for the "chiselers."

Three Youngsters Object Of Search

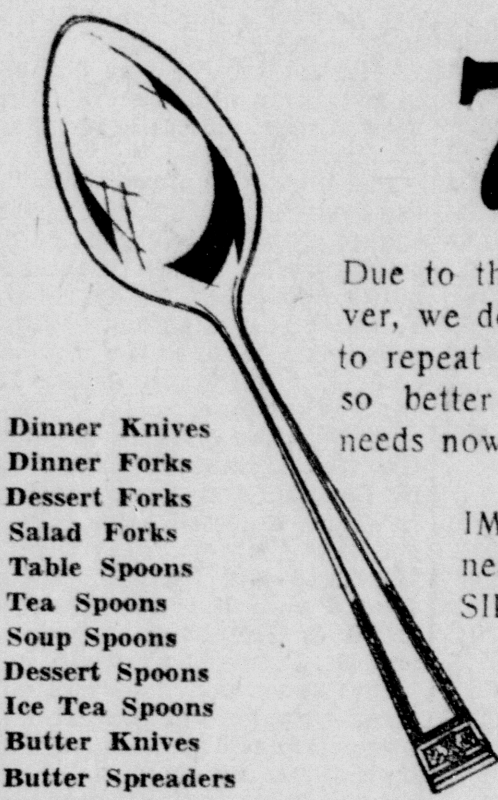

New Jersey Countryside Searched For Missing Children, Near Elizabeth, N. J.

(International News Service)
ELIZABETH, N. J., April 30.—Three small children, missing since Friday, were the objects today of one of the most dramatic searches in the history of New Jersey.
One thousand persons and two crack bloodhounds beat the dense swamp lands adjoining Newark airport without finding the youngsters.
The missing children are Charles Amone, 7; Frank Truggiano, 6, and his brother, Mario Truggiano, 5.
The fear was growing that the children perished in the quicksands of the swamp and their bodies sucked from view.

Bitter Attack On President

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Calls For "Retirement Of Franklin D. Roosevelt"

FIRST SHOT IN 1936 CAMPAIGN

(International News Service)
BOSTON, April 30.—Charging the New Deal is destroying the American standard of living, saddling the nation with an unparalleled public debt and that the $4,800,000,000 work-relief program is filled with political implications, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., today demanded "retirement to private life" of President Roosevelt.

In an address considered the opening gun of a 1936 presidential campaign, Col. Roosevelt told a regional conference of Republican leaders here the administration policies are blocking "real recovery."
"The politics at Washington," he asserted "are definitely blocking real recovery and squandering the savings of the average individual. If allowed to continue unchecked, this course will crush the small property owner, the home owner, the small business man. Instead of a nation where the vast majority of the people have possessions and comforts, we will become a country where poverty is the rule."
Standard Destroyed
"The American high standard of living is being rapidly destroyed by the so-called New Deal."
He accused the president of raising the national debt to "a figure never equalled before" and of "foisting 125,000 more federal employees on the payroll."
"This is the man whose government has registered the greatest deficit in our history and who is now, today, borrowing to meet his deficits."

The administration's foreign trade policy came in for sharp criticism. Two-thirds of the overseas textile trade, Col. Roosevelt claimed, has been lost—mainly to Japan—while the country's textile industry "has been shackled" by processing taxes and increased costs.

Blair County Probe Approved

House Approves Resolution For Relief Probe In Blair County

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 30.—The House today had placed its approval on the resolution of Rep. Harry E. Diel, Blair, for a legislative investigation of the Blair county relief board and the U. S. employment bureau there by a committee of five house members to be named by the speaker.

Rep. Elwood J. Turner, Delaware, opposed the resolution, contending the large number of separate county investigations now underway will hinder the state-wide probe soon to be started.

Rep. John J. Haluska, Cambria, sponsor of the resolution which resulted in the Cambria county relief investigation, objected to Turner's statements, asserting the various county probes were uncovering much valuable information for the state-wide investigators. He declared individual county investigations were welcomed by state relief director Robert L. Johnson.

Similar statements were made by Rep. Charles B. Coakley, of Northampton, who said he was informed the probe under way in his county had reduced relief rolls a third. Turner was given little support and the Diel resolution passed almost unanimously on a vive voce vote.
